

WASHINGTON. An Investigation of Trusts Begun. The Great Sugar Combination's Methods Explained.

Public Printer Benedict Again in a Bad Light. Washington, March 8.—[By the Associated Press.] Under cross-examination before the House Committee on Printing today, Benedict acknowledged that he had authorized the use of his name for reference only in a circular addressed to postmasters, seeking to learn the political status of persons in their districts. A series of questions were put to the witness with the intention of getting from him a positive statement of the reasons for certain discharges, and an admission that he employed spies to report on him concerning the conduct and work of employees. He admitted that he got private information from the postmasters, and that he had made no discharges for purely political reasons.

THE POSTAL SERVICE PRAISED. In answer to the Perkins resolution of inquiry into the alleged complaints prevailing in the West against the present unsatisfactory mail service, the Postmaster-General today sent to the House a communication in which he says that careful inquiry and close examination of the country mail service has been made, and that the general opinion is that the service is a more prompt and liberal response on the part of the department for the needs of the country and the whole field of its operations is in better and more efficient condition than it has ever been before.

THE SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY has sent to the House an estimate of $8000 to defray the expenses of observation of the total eclipse of the sun, which will be visible on the Pacific Coast on December 8, 1889. The President sent to the Senate the nominations of John C. Hance to be Secretary of the Treasury, and of William H. C. Hance to be Register of the Land Office at San Francisco. The United States Minister at Peking, China, has informed the Department of State that the people of China, who are weary of the present government, are desirous of having a new government, and that he is desirous of procuring property and to do business as follows: Shanghai, 200,000; Canton, 100,000; Peking, 100,000; Hankow, 100,000; Tientsin, 100,000; and other cities.

RED TAPE EVERYWHERE. How Sam's Circumlocution Office is Run. Washington, March 8.—[By the Associated Press.] The report submitted today by Senator Cockrell, from the special committee on the methods of transacting business in the executive departments, is a volume of 268 printed pages, in addition to voluminous appendices. The committee finds much in certain places to commend, and very much in others to condemn as unnecessary, ridiculous and farcical circumlocution. The report classifies the forces employed by the Government, including officers and men of the army and navy, and finds the grand total to be 171,749 individuals. The report is a scathing indictment of the various departments in reply to the committee's letters of inquiry, failed to show the connection of bureau with bureau and division with division in respect to a single item of business transacted, and for the purpose of getting information of this character the committee caused a few specimen items to be traced from initiation to completion.

Must Serve His Sentence. Santa Fe (N. M.), March 8.—[By the Associated Press.] The United States court here today sentenced Long and Reeves overruled the motion for a new trial in the case of the United States against Max Frost, ex-governor of Idaho, convicted of receiving illegal fees for services rendered in the case of the late Governor of Idaho, and to undergo the hope that he may be enabled to recover his wasted health. Pugnacious Peace Officers. Sacramento, March 8.—[By the Associated Press.] A riotous mob of 500 men, armed with clubs and stones, gathered in front of the residence of the United States marshal here today, and threatened to burn the residence. The marshal, however, was not intimidated, and the mob dispersed.

Interprovincial Resolutions. Toronto, March 8.—[The Interprovincial resolutions which have been debated in the Ontario Legislature for several days were adopted last night. A resolution was passed asking the Lieutenant-Governor to transmit the resolutions to the Imperial Government with the request that action be taken thereon.

Oregon Prohibitionists. Portland (Or.), March 8.—[The Prohibitionists are organizing their forces for the coming campaign. The State convention will be held March 28th. St. John will arrive about April 5th, and will deliver addresses throughout the State.

Killed by a Falling Tree. Healdsburg, March 8.—[Lorenzo Tava, engaged in clearing ground on the fruit farm of Charles H. Warfield, near Healdsburg, was accidentally killed by a tree falling on him and crushing his head, last evening.

Laid to Rest. Boston, March 8.—[The funeral services of Miss Alcott were held today. They were entirely private, only invited friends being present. The burial will be in the old "Sleepy Hollow" graveyard at Concord.

EXCURSION!

Semi-Tropic Land & Water Co.

29,000 ACRES OF THE FINEST CITRUS LAND IN THE WORLD

Divided into five, ten and twenty acre tracts, at from $200 to $500 per acre. One inch of water to each ten acres, which is deeded with the land.

THIS BEAUTIFUL TRACT is situated three miles west of San Bernardino and is crossed by both the A., T. & S. F. R. R. and S. P.
R. R. It is mesa land and more than 400 feet higher than Riverside. It is conceded by those who are familiar with the culture of citrus fruits to be the choicest citrus lands in Southern California. But the one thing which makes this beautiful tract especially desirable is the water supply, which is derived from Lytle Creek. It takes its source from the north side of Old Baldy, as does San Antonio from the south side. In August of last year, which was probably the driest time, there was more than 300 inches surface flow, and it is estimated more than twice that amount can be developed. The water is conveyed to this tract in covered cement ditches, and distributed in underground cement pipe to each 20-acre tract. Besides, domestic water is piped to each tract, obviating the necessity of private reservoirs and cisterns. More than 800,000 worth of this land has already been sold without advertising.

RIALTO, THE NEW TOWN ON THIS TRACT,

Is situated on the A., T. & S. F. R. R., three miles west of San Bernardino (and also a motor road already contracted for, to be in operation by July, 1888, connecting with San Bernardino and Colton). Less than six months old, it has made wonderful growth. A beautiful hotel, costing $20,000, is finished and occupied. The depot, the largest and finest on the railroad between Los Angeles and San Bernardino, several business houses, hardware, grocery, restaurant, meat shops, postoffice, etc., etc. Gov. Merrill of Iowa, will make this his permanent home and has already finished a beautiful residence, costing $8000. More than a mile of bituminous rock walks are now being laid; 10,000 pepper and eucalyptus trees are being planted on the avenues. The ORANGE GROWER, a weekly newspaper, has been established, and is an evidence of the enterprise of the citizens of this community.

There will be an excursion to Rialto Tuesday, March 13th, to which you are invited.

It will not be an auction sale, neither will you be asked to buy. We want you to see RIALTO and the semi-tropic lands. We will try to treat you cleverly and will promise you a good time and will not consider it any trouble to show goods.

CONGRESS will probably accept the invitation of the French Republic to take part in the international exposition at Paris in 1889.

THE NEW YORK Herald candidly acknowledges the strength of the Republican party and its wealth in candidates. Its remarks will be found in another column.

THE brutal attempt of the Express to prematurely kill the Emperor William was no more successful than was its effort to make a sensation out of that child California temblor.

A CALIFORNIA Chinaman has received from Washington $3000 back pension and was granted $3 a month. He was in a United States vessel when a gun exploded, causing him serious injuries.

HANBURY and Garvey, Mrs. Burton and the International Company are all busy publishing notices in the Sun Daily papers informing the public of the danger of purchasing Lower California lands from anyone but themselves. Meantime the public—at least the sensible portion—is leaving Lower California very severely alone.

A PERSON named Davis, who worked here for six weeks, has furnished the Brookline (Kan.) Transcript with the information that Southern California is a first-class fraud and a hotbed of malaria. Right on top of this he enumerates half a dozen townspeople who are doing well here. This class of prevaricators not only lie, but they lie most illogically.

THE delinquent tax list of this county is one of the most outrageously blundering pieces of official incompetency that has ever been foisted upon a long-suffering public. To sell property for taxes on the strength of such a farcical delinquency list would be a criminal unjust proceeding, and would invite endless complications and litigation in the near future.

OUR real estate market has settled down to a steady demand for acreage property and inside business and residence property, for immediate improvement. This is very encouraging, as showing that our prosperity is in no way affected by or dependent on the ultra-speculative outside town lot craze, which reached its climax last fall. Improvement and development are now the order of the day.

ACCORDING to a magazine writer, the successful Canadian farmer near Quebec gets about $300 a year, "counting the crops he sells and consumes, wages in winter, lumbering, blueberries, knitting, weaving, and all other productions and industries. With the strictest economy some of them keep out of debt, but the great majority of the farms carry hopeless mortgages, and the families are troubled to get the bare necessities." No wonder the Canadians are anxious to come to California.

THE bill extending the time for the payment of the Government debt by the subsidized railroads comprised in the Union Pacific system for fifty years is to be favorably reported. These wealthy corporations find little difficulty in getting what they want from the Government, although a show of opposition may be made to appease the public. They illustrate the truth of the Scripture saying: "To him that hath shall be given, but from him that hath not shall be taken even that he hath."

FLORIDA real estate men have been working the President for all he is worth in the booming line. Photographs have been published, showing him and his party in an orange grove picking the fruit. Under one of the views is a statement to the effect that "Mrs. Cleveland had the pleasure of being the first of the Presidential party to pluck one." If the Floridians could only have induced Grover and his wife to appear in appropriate costume, with a Florida real estate man handing Mrs. C. an orange, the whole would have been a truly Biblical group.

Death of the German Emperor.

The announcement yesterday of the death of the German Kaiser took few by surprise. He had already long passed the usual limit allotted to human life and was known to have been in dotage for some time past. A wonderfully vigorous constitution and an iron will in connection with his simple mode of life enabled him to pull through for many years after he was expected to succumb.

The late Emperor was in many respects a remarkable man. The history of his life is to a great extent the history of Europe during the present century. He entered Paris with the allied armies after the battle of Waterloo. Since that time he has been intimately associated with all important events which have tended to modify the map of Europe, as it then existed. From the time when he participated in the discomfiture of the first Napoleon to the time when he was crowned Emperor of Germany in the palace of Versailles, his life marks the growth of the German Empire from a third rate power to the leading political and military organization of Europe.

The demise of the Emperor will cause much anxiety and give rise to many complications in Germany and in Europe generally. His son, the present Emperor, is not likely to survive him many months. The next heir, Prince William, a young man of 29, is partially deformed and afflicted with a chronic disease, a natural consequence of the continued in-breeding which has prevailed for centuries among the royal families of Europe. He is moreover far from popular among the German people.

For many years the patriotism of the Germans has found tangible expression in their admiration of, and devotion to the Emperor William and Bismarck. With the death of the latter statesman, which must occur before very long, the fully formed and allied with a chronic disease, a natural consequence of the continued in-breeding which has prevailed for centuries among the royal families of Europe. He is moreover far from popular among the German people.

A general European war is likely to follow close upon the death of the Emperor. What effect such a war will have upon the map of Europe none can foretell, but Germany is very powerful and not likely to come out of the conflict a loser. There is, however, a quiet but deep and growing discontent among the German people with the system of militarism under which the country groans. With the death of the Emperor, such discontent is likely to find more open expression, and as soon as Bismarck shall have disappeared from the scene, it would not surprise us to see a strong movement spring up in Germany in favor of a republican form of government. The Germans are far better adapted to make a success of that form of government than are the French. Their temperament is more suited to the ultra-speculative outside town lot craze, which reached its climax last fall. Improvement and development are now the order of the day.

Arizona's Opportunity.

For many years Arizona Territory has been trying, as well as her fettered representation in Congress would permit, to get the Federal Government to appropriate a trifling sum from the surplus toward the development of her barren sources of water supply. At last the Committee on Territories has decided in favor of ascertaining the water resources of that Territory and New Mexico, with a view of reclaiming the so-called deserts by irrigation. The committee has already reported a bill to the House appropriating $50,000 for each of the Territories, which sum the Secretary of War is directed to expend in boring artesian wells in the public lands in those Territories, and in making a hydrographic survey of each Territory, and from such surveys to ascertain as near as may be the practicability of storing the waters of the Territories in reservoirs or other receptacles for the purpose of irrigating the public lands. The Secretary of War is directed to cause the work to be done as early as date as possible and to make a full report to the Fifty-first Congress. All lands reclaimed from a desert condition by any water thus developed are to be subject to entry as homestead claims at the minimum price of $4 per acre.

Many centuries before Moses led the children of Israel out of Egypt into the Promised Land Arizona was thickly peopled by a civilized race who dwelt in their walled cities, had their systems of municipal government and priesthood, and cultivated large areas of fertile land. Numerous relics of this mysterious race, whose origin nobody knows, are scattered throughout the Territory, and their great water courses, which they used for irrigation, may still be traced for miles through what is now a dry and deserted expanse of mesa, covered with cactus, greasewood and straggling mesquite. The engineering science of this prehistoric people is proved by the fact that in several instances, where modern surveys have followed the route of these old canals, it has not been found necessary to deviate a foot from the line which they had adopted.

The old idea of the desert character of Arizona is gradually giving way to a better knowledge of its resources and possibilities. The whole Territory contains less actual desert than does the Colorado Desert in Southern California. The vast mesa possess a rich friable soil, which is perfectly adapted to the growth of grain, fruits and vines, needing only the life-giving touch of water to produce as luxuriously as it did when a succession of cities, in groups of seven, stretched from what is now Southern Nevada far down into Mexico.

A large amount of land has already been brought under irrigation by means of ditches, during the past few years, and many more are being constructed, but there is an immense area of fertile land, upon which water can only be brought either from mountain storage or from artesian wells. How vast this area may be judged from the fact that the Territory of Arizona contains over 72,000,000 acres of land, of which less than 2,000,000 acres are susceptible of cultivation for what of water.

The Territory from a judicious expenditure of the small sum appropriated by this bill—which will undoubtedly pass—can scarcely be overestimated. Arizona will now have the opportunity she has so long sought, to prove whether artesian water can be had upon her fertile mesas. Should the result be favorable, there will be no lack of capital to develop the precious fluid, and immigration will crowd into the Territory.

Los Angeles being Arizona's natural supply point, we feel much interest in anything that tends to the prosperity of that Territory, and hope soon to chronicle that an ample supply of artesian water has been discovered.

The Traffic in Human Flesh.

The Committee on Labor of the Massachusetts House is investigating the alleged traffic in young girls, and some startling developments are expected. A few years ago, when the Pall Mall Gazette made its disclosures of the terrible extent to which this traffic was carried on in the British metropolis, a shudder went through the civilized world, and London was characterized as a modern Sodom, prominent in wickedness above all other cities of the world. Especially was it indignantly denied that in free America, the home of schools and churches and the paradise of women, such a condition of things could exist. Those who have studied the darker side of human nature were, however, aware that vice in all its hideous forms is confined to no particular geographical limits. Given opportunity, in the shape of great aggregations of the immensely wealthy class jostling in crowded cities with masses of the abject poor, and similar conditions will be found to prevail, whether in Europe or in America. Facts which have come to the surface during the past few years have proved that this is true, in relation to the United States.

Nor is it fully confined to the large cities, as may be judged from the disclosures made a few weeks ago of the manner in which young girls have been enticed from eastern cities under false pretenses and taken to the North-west, where they are kept under bondage in low dives, surrounded by stockades, with bloodhounds to hunt them down in case they attempt to escape, their owners transferring them occasionally at so much a head, like cattle. Such a state of affairs is fully as disgraceful as any that prevails in the most corrupt circles of the Old World, and calls for increased and unremitting vigilance on the part of our societies for the protection of the young, and for laws that will make such traffic in flesh and blood a very dangerous venture for those who engage in it.

RAINIER's bill for a system of postal telegraphy is to be favorably reported. This would be an excellent measure, but the probability is that the influence of the telegraph companies will be sufficiently powerful to prevent the passage of any such bill.

The State of postal affairs at the South is in full keeping with the demands of Democratic intelligence. Southern journals report that "the mail comes in frequently, and is distributed every week, when the postmaster feels well."

REPUBLICANS at the South are awakening to the necessity of action. Seven Republican papers have been recently started in North Carolina alone.

Rock Island Sides with the Strikers, And Refuses to Handle the Burlington's Freight.

Efforts to Secure an Injunction Against the Brotherhood.

The Engineer Jolted Over the Turn of Affairs—Burlington's Freight, on Other Roads—The Burlington Still Able to Run Trains.

By Telegram to The Times.

CHICAGO, March 8.—(By the Associated Press.) The Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad applied to Judge Graham this morning for an order requiring the receiver of the Wabash road, and his agents and officers and employees, to perform their duties as a public carrier as respects traffic with such petitioner, and also for an order restraining the association commonly called the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and especially one P. M. Arthur, its chief executive officer, from in any way giving any orders to the engineers in the employ of the receiver. The road also asked for an order to punish the receiver for contempt of court in unlawfully interfering with the administration of property in the custody of the court in this case. The court ordered the petition, together with the affidavits and papers, to be filed, and the petition was set for hearing March 9th at 9 o'clock.

It is understood that Gen. McNulta will simply remain passive in the matter. A strong fight in court against the Burlington's petition will be made. Nevertheless it will be conducted under the auspices of the Brotherhood. They have engaged Alexander Sullivan and his partner, Thomas G. Winslow, Esq., Secretary of War Robert Lincoln will appear for Gen. McNulta. After the injunction proceedings were begun today, the strikers quit striking for a time. Their causes and conferences adjourned without action, and everybody waited until Judge Graham had his say. Altogether the men seemed to be in a bad humor. CHICAGO, March 8.—(By the Associated Press.) The Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad applied to Judge Graham this morning for an order requiring the receiver of the Wabash road, and his agents and officers and employees, to perform their duties as a public carrier as respects traffic with such petitioner, and also for an order restraining the association commonly called the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and especially one P. M. Arthur, its chief executive officer, from in any way giving any orders to the engineers in the employ of the receiver. The road also asked for an order to punish the receiver for contempt of court in unlawfully interfering with the administration of property in the custody of the court in this case. The court ordered the petition, together with the affidavits and papers, to be filed, and the petition was set for hearing March 9th at 9 o'clock.

OF PHILADELPHIA,

LUNG DISEASES.

A word to the wise is sufficient. Dr. Sweany of Philadelphia has arranged to combine the new method (Bergeon's) by gaseous enemata, for the cure of consumption and all diseases of the lungs and respiratory tract with his own system, hypernutrition, which he has practiced so successfully in Philadelphia, where thousands can testify to the success of his treatment; and now by combining the two systems Dr. Sweany wishes to say to all people who are suffering with consumption, asthma, dyspnea, catarrh, blood poisons, etc., or any disease whatever of the respiratory organs, that "there is balm in Gilead." That with his combined treatment he can cure any and all cases of consumption and lung affections.

A FEW EXPLANATORY NOTES.

The Bergeon treatment for consumption by gaseous enemata consists of the introduction of the parasiticide gas into the rectum, where it is immediately taken up by the veins and passes through the venous circulation to the liver, from thence to the heart and from thence to the lungs, passing all of this distance through the venous blood, and reaches the lungs in a state of purity, where it can be detected in from one to four minutes after its administration into the rectum. If this gaseous substance should have to pass through arterial blood its powerful effects on the diseased lung disease would be destroyed by the oxygen contained in arterial blood. There is no oxygen in venous blood until it reaches the lungs, where it receives its charge of oxygen from the air drawn into the lungs during the act of breathing, after which it passes from the lungs into the arterial circulation through the system, and finally reaches the rectum and other distal points again converted into venous blood, having given up its oxygen to the system. The difference between arterial blood and venous blood is oxygen, the former being loaded with it and the latter being devoid of it. It is upon this fact alone that Bergeon, the French physician, was able to make this method practicable, hence it is also that all of the inhalations are of little or no value because, in order to reach the lungs, inhalations must be exposed to oxygen in its passage from the mouth to the lungs through the medium of atmospheric air, which destroy their value.

Some persons who do not understand the anatomy and physiology of the human system would be at a loss to know how matter placed into the rectum could act beneficially on the lungs, but when they understand how the venous blood rushes from any and all parts of the body to the lungs to receive a new charge of oxygen, they will readily understand how this parasiticide gas, introduced into the rectum, is carried along with this blood directly to the lungs.

This method is easy of application and acts directly on the diseased lung tissue, killing the germ of the disease, after which the tubercles heal up, expectoration ceases, the lungs assume a natural and healthy condition, and all of the distressing symptoms of consumption soon disappear. This method practically brings the lungs to the surface of the body, that they may be treated topically the same as can the skin.

Dr. Sweany's system of treatment by hypernutrition for consumption and all diseases of the lungs, blood, brain and nervous system consists of a course of forced nutrition, by which new nerve, new muscle, new bone and new tissue of all kinds are made in the body and substituted for the diseased tissue, thus forcing the disease from the system by fortifying its enemy.

Dr. Sweany has arranged to combine the two new and wonderfully successful methods, and appeals to all who may be suffering to seek relief where it may be had. The one method kills the germ of the disease, while the other goes to assist nature. What can be the result? Health, happiness and long life.

Is there no balm in Gilead? What more do we want to know? Come all, not skeptical, and to investigate, for investigation has been most thorough, the proof of which is here affirmed; but come to be treated to get well, to reap the rich reward on the investigations and experience of others.

It has been demonstrated beyond a doubt this system of treatment is near a specific for diseases peculiar to women. The most happy results obtained. Women who have been treated by other methods without obtaining relief are specially requested to call. All irregularities corrected.

Dr. Sweany can be consulted at his office, during office hours, as follows: 10 to 12 a.m., 3 to 5 and 7 to 8 p.m. Sundays, 10 to 12 only.

Office, 61 N. Main st., Los Angeles, Cal.

Let all people know that Dr. Sweany is permanently located in Los Angeles.

WALTERIA!

AN ALL-THE-YEAR-ROUND RESORT!

CHEAP HOMES! RICH FARMS!

Pure Air and Delightful Scenery!

In this glorious California, each location claims superiority over all the others, and each has some advantages the other has not. In no one place do the powers that be combine all the excellence and variety of California in one space as it does in WALTERIA. It is situated 15 miles southwest of Los Angeles, three miles from Redondo Beach and one and a half miles from the ocean. The townsite is located at the base and on the Palos Verdes hills. The country for miles around presents a most beautiful and ever-changing panorama. It faces the north-east and west, and one never tires watching the effects of nature's forces on land and water. In the west we see Redondo in its future greatness and prosperity. Santa Monica Bay, with Santa Monica nestled 'neath the mountains which form the background of our picture in that direction. On the north, after the eye has passed over the intervening valley, we see Los Angeles, with the foothills of Pasadena and the Sierra Madre Mountains for a background, with Old Baldy and the San Bernardino Mountains with their snow-capped summits in the far distance. On the east we see San Pedro Bay and Long Beach, with many flourishing and pleasant settlements dotted here and there. All unite in making WALTERIA the pleasantest of resorts, as well as a most attractive place for homes.

Meadow Park, of which WALTERIA is a subdivision, is divided into blocks of two and a half, five, ten and twenty acres, suitable for small fruit farms, making a pleasant home for one of moderate means, or an excellent opportunity for speculation. Building material will be furnished at first cost, as brick and lime are now being burnt on the premises, and lumber can be had at Redondo. Direct railroad communication will be had with Redondo and Los Angeles, making the distance no disadvantage.
